The mayor says half of the town's 11,000 population may be forced from their homes before the waters recede. ## Wisconsin Is Farm Voter Test: Nixon APPLETON, Wis. (AP) — During his campaigning in Wisconsin, Richard M. Nixon is aiming not only to win the state's presidential primary April 2, but also to capture the farm vote if he becomes the Republican presidential candidate.

Wisconsin will be the first major test of strategy on farm policy," he said.

The former vice president says he places the greatest importance on the farm vote, even though farmers represent only 6 per cent of the work force.

"The farmers' position can make all the difference, and this is an area where I hope to have a new approach," he said.

Nixon went into his second day of courting voters in the Badger State today, embarking on a grueling schedule with Appleton, the State University at Stevens Point, and Fond du Lac on his list.

He prepared a Lincoln Day dinner speech for the third stop, and planned to go on from there to Milwaukee to spend the night.

He called the Wisconsin primary "a critical one" both for him and Gov. George Romney of Michigan.

In a news conference in Green

Bay, Nixon attacked the administration on the question of credibility with respect to the war in Vietnam.

"I believe the administration now should rethink its own internal information in the United States," Nixon said. "I think it's unfortunate that over the past two or three months, we have had these glowing reports out of Washington indicating that the war is going better, or that peace is just around the corner."

Nixon agreed that no one in Washington had used exactly these words.

He went on to say, "our apparently hard intelligence indicates that not only is the enemy capable of doing what he did in this last offensive, but reading the morning reports, he is capable of doing it again."

"And I think the Johnson administration would be much better advised to tell the American people the truth about the enemy's strength, the enemy's intentions, and then tell the American people that we are not going to cave in to this kind of assault. That message would have a dramatic effect in shortening the war."

Detroit Papers, Union In Accord

DETROIT (AP)—The striking Teamsters Union and publishers of Detroit's two major daily newspapers reached agreement Monday night on a contract expected to pave the way toward an end of the 83-day newspaper shutdown.

The pact calls for increases of $30 a week in wages and fringe benefits over a three-year period.

But The Detroit News and Detroit Free Press still faced negotiations on contracts with 13 other unions, and a spokesman said it remains uncertain when the papers could resume publication.

Agreement with Teamsters Local 372 came after a 13-hour bargaining session. Robert Holmes, an international vice president of the parent union, took part in the talks.

Contracts with the other 13 craft unions expired in the interim since the Teamsters struck The News at midnight last Nov. 15 and the Free Press suspended publication two days later in support of The News.

The agreement is subject to ratification by 1,000 Teamster members. No date was set for a ratification vote.

The Teamsters, who earned a base wage of $150 weekly under the old pact, had rejected a $27 weekly money package in December.

The News employed 600 of the 1,000 Teamsters.

Meanwhile, a State Senate committee, investigating the reasons behind the strike, is expected to resume hearings next Saturday or Monday.

State Sen. Robert Huber, R-Troy, chairman of the committee, promised to call Teamsters members and Frank Beaumont, publisher of one of four interim dailies which sprang up during the strike and were later closed either by themselves or by Teamsters' strikes.

Beaumont was publisher of

Rocky Rises As Romney Declines

NASHUA, N.H. (AP) — George Romney reports that Nelson A. Rockefeller's rising presidential ratings have not altered the New Yorker's determination to support him for the Republican nomination for the White House.

Bearing that message from Albany, N.Y., the Michigan governor plunges today into a new round of talking, touring and hand-shaking in his campaign for New Hampshire's primary.

Romney and Rockefeller traded praise Monday night on two Albany platforms. Even while his own popularity poll rating declined as Rockefeller's rose, Romney said, the New York governor "has not wavered one whit in doing everything he could to help win the nomination."

For his part, Rockefeller, who said repeatedly he will not be a candidate, called Romney "the man the Republican party needs in this time of crisis, the man we want for the Republican presidential candidate this fall."

Travel Tax Gets Capitol Support

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's proposed travel tax on overseas spending, although generating complaints it is discriminatory and impossible to administer, appears to have powerful support on Capitol Hill.

The House Ways and Means Committee continues hearings today on the proposal aimed at reducing the U.S. balance of payments deficit by $500 million a year—with Secretary of the Treasury Henry H. Fowler once more the top administration witness.

As unveiled Monday by Fowler, the plan would impose a graduated tax on the spending of U.S. travelers outside the Western Hemisphere—nothing on the first $7 a day, 15 per cent on the next $8 and 30 per cent on everything above $15.

There also would be a 5 per cent excise tax on all international air fares and on water transportation outside the Western Hemisphere, plus a 90 per cent reduction in the duty-free privileges on gifts and goods bought abroad and brought home by travelers.

Although Rep. John W. Byrnes of Wisconsin, senior Republican Ways and Means Committee member, sharply questioned Fowler for three hours, he later told a newsman: "It looks as though traveling is the only ax to be gored."

Committee Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., did not question Fowler and other administration witnesses.

But he later told an interviewer "we will have to do something about the tourist contribution to the dollar drain."

Travel industry spokesmen at home and abroad were predictably hostile to the proposals.

A New York travel agency official, Dick Bryers, said the proposal would force "people to be accountants while on vacation."

Howard L. Clark, president of American Express Co., said: "I think such taxes could lead to retaliation affecting our present favorable balance of trade" with many countries.

Also criticized was the formula for assessing the tax, involving—among other features—payment of taxes on estimated expenditures before taking the trip along with filing of tax forms upon returning home.

Rep. Al Ullman, D-Ore., another committee member, said the proposals are "so complicated they may be self-defeating."

He said the administration should consider a stiff rate, such as 30 per cent, on total spending above $200.

Rockefeller sent his own airplane, the Wayfarer, to New Hampshire to fly Romney to and from appearances before the New York State Society of Newspaper Editors and a $50 a plate fund raising dinner attended by more than 600 Republicans.

William R. Johnson, Romney's New Hampshire campaign chairman, said the Albany exchange could help blunt any effort to mount a write-in campaign for the New York governor in the March 12 presidential primary. Such a write-in could cut into Romney's support in his race against former Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

Romney and Rockefeller conferred privately in the New Yorker's limousine before the Michigan governor returned to New Hampshire.

No Speculation

Romney refused to speculate on the course he might take if his own presidential campaign falters. "I'm not going to engage in hypothetical discussions," he said.

And when a New York editor asked who Romney would support for the nomination if he can't get it himself, the governor replied: "My campaign is

ROK Asks Hand In Pueblo Talks

SEOUL (AP) — South Korea's National Assembly adopted tonight a sharply worded resolution expressing "national indignation" at current secret negotiations between the United States and North Korea on the fate of the USS Pueblo and its crew.

The resolution, reflecting widespread Korean dismay at the American attitude in the crisis, insisted that the attack by North Korean commandos assigned to assassinate President Chung Hee Park was more important to South Korea than the Pueblo incident.

The legislators asked the government to take "punitive measures—if necessary, alone—against Communist provocations," and suggested that "military reprisals would be the best measures" since the record of the North Koreans "proves they do not stick to diplomatic agreements."

Park Choon-kyoo, chairman of the Foreign Affairs Committee, expressed the view that the United States was employing a double standard.

South Vietnam, he said, has its own command, while South Korea's forces remain under the U.N. Command. He suggested that private American talks with the North Koreans at Panmunjom were tantamount to shutting out South Korea, on its own territory, from discussions which vitally concern this country.

Refugees Crowd Saigon Streets

SAIGON (AP) — Tens of thousands of refugees, loaded down with household utensils and clothing, clogged the streets of Saigon today. They were fleeing from their homes in the southern part of the city, swarming into the capital's secure center.

The refugees claimed the police were unable to give them any protection against marauding Viet Cong bands.

The Viet Cong came to my shop last night with cigarette lighters and rifles," a tearful shopkeeper said. "They were only kids, but they threatened me and burned down my shop. Now 500 homes are burned," he said, pointing to a block-long mass of ruins.

No Police Help

The shopkeeper said many people from the locality ran to the police headquarters 200 yards down the road, "but the police never came to help, no one came."

"I have lost everything, 4 million piasters worth, and so has everyone else around me," the shopkeeper said as he raked through the smoldering remains of his shop.

Moving past him on the street were refugees in bicycle cabs, pushing their own bicycles, and on foot.

City officials report 47,000 refugees have been registered in official camps. The exodus from the heavily populated southern section is expected to push the total far above that.

SAIGON and its suburbs have an estimated population of nearly 3 million people.

The 8th Precinct on the south stretches alongside Cholon, the Chinese section, and is a maze of canals and shacks. It was an area of panic today.

Traffic jammed the main bridge leading toward the center of town. Smaller bridges were under sniper fire.

Homes Destroyed

Several blocks had been razed during the night, one by the Viet Cong. Residents said 500 yards of homes along one canal were destroyed by U.S. and South Vietnamese fighter-bombers that dropped napalm and fired rockets on suspected pockets of Viet Cong.

Air strikes continued today on the outskirts of the precinct, but no troop reinforcements had been sent in. All reserves were fully committed in other parts of the city.

Police in the area said the Viet Cong still held some parts of the precinct, but not enough troops were available to search them out.

AWOL 4 Times; Gives Himself Up

MILAN (AP) — Pvt. Arthur Couch, 20, of rural Milan, turned himself in to authorities Monday after being absent without leave (AWOL) for the fourth time in a one-year Army hitch.

Authorities said Couch, a draftsman, was picked up in Milan Jan. 10 and went AWOL again Jan. 12. He was turned over to Military Police in Detroit.

Headquarters also reported that U.S. Marines killed 295 Communist troops and captured 116 weapons in a two-day fight seven miles below the eastern edge of the DMZ, while 36 Marines were killed and 164 wounded.

The U.S. Command said that except for Hue, U.S. and South Vietnamese forces had regained control of all cities and towns seized or deeply penetrated by Viet Cong forces in their attacks on 35 major population centers in the last eight days.

At the northwest frontier bastion of Khe Sanh, where U.S. Marines await an even bigger Communist offensive than the campaign against the cities, the situation was reported quiet after a probing attack Monday.

Casualties Mount

The U.S. Command said 21,330 Communist troops have been killed across the country in the last seven days, more than a third of the 60,000 troops which American intelligence officers estimate the Communists sent President Johnson's latest budget estimates such food shipments will cost $95 million this budget year and $105 million in fiscal 1969. If the 10 per cent estimate holds true, that would mean $9.5 million and $10.5 million respectively would go to port costs.

"There's nothing to negotiate to get it," Lippman said. "The agreements are on the books, but they're not being administered."

Millions Are Lost By United States:

Port Charges On Grain Gifts Add To $$$ Drain

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate subcommittee is preparing to summon four federal agencies to explain why the government adds millions to the dollar drain each year by paying port charges on American goods given to foreign countries.

The Associated Press learned of the forthcoming investigation as President Johnson asked Congress to tax American tourists as one step toward stemming the drain. Johnson asked Congress Monday to tax each traveler going abroad on a rising scale that would reach 30 per cent of expenditures above $15 per day.

An authoritative estimate pegged the government's payments for port charges on food shipped abroad at $7.1 million in fiscal 1967 and climbing rapidly.

The General Accounting Office, an agency of Congress, began asking three years ago why the United States was making such payments. Food shipment agreements require that the recipient country make them.

A new GAO report says the U.S. agencies are "still working on the problem of how to identify and disallow charges for ineligible port charges."

An official of the Agency for International Development, one of the executive agencies involved, confirmed that officials are "groping for a formula, an approximation" of the port charges. There are "all kinds of technical problems," he said.

The Senate Foreign Aid expenditures subcommittee headed by Sen. Ernest Gruening, D-Alaska, will call officials from the State and Agriculture departments, the Maritime Administration and Aid this month to explain the drain, The Associated Press learned.

The free food is shipped under a 13-year-old program designed to meet famine or other emergencies. In addition to donating the food, the United States pays shipping costs.

Joseph Lippman, staff director of Gruening's subcommittee, said in an interview that a foreign government must agree to bear all port costs. But, he said, 10 per cent of the transportation costs the United States has been paying actually are port charges—wages for stevedores, wharf rentals and port authority fees.

Since transportation cost $71.4 million in fiscal 1967, that would mean $7.1 million went unnecessarily down the dollar drain for port costs, Lippman said.

ON WEDNESDAY, FEB. 14, ground will be broken for the new $24 million basic science building of Wayne State University's School of Medicine, Detroit. The largest state building ever constructed in terms of both cost and size, it will be only slightly smaller than Detroit's Cobo Hall. Completion of this teaching-research facility is the first and necessary step in allowing the School of Medicine to increase the entering class of 125 students to 200. Approximately 70 per cent of WSU's medical graduates practice in Michigan.

Library Site Discussion Set For Thursday

A general discussion of library sites with representatives of the Escanaba Carnegie Library Board will be held by the Planning Commission at the Commission meeting to be held in the City Hall at 4 p.m. Thursday.

Over the past several years there have been informal proposals for the relocation of the library, largely related to suggestions for an expansion of the facility. The discussion with the Planning Commission is expected to be helpful in clarifying procedures regarding site selection.

Other business on the agenda includes: Planning Commission consideration of a City Council request for a recommendation on rezoning a five acre parcel west of the Area Senior High School on 5th Ave. S. from Residential A to Residential C to permit construction of an apartment building.

Discussion of the city's Comprehensive Plan; review of a proposed revision in the zoning ordinance to change the uses in an industrial district; and a request from Phil & Lee's for consideration of a mobile home site and the purchase of city property for such a site.

Briefly Told

The Comancheros of Flat Rock will meet at the Flat Rock Town Hall Tuesday, Feb. 6, at 7:30 p.m.

The Red Buck Archery Club will hold its monthly meeting Wednesday at 8 p.m. at Club 314. Free archery lessons are offered to adults from 7 to 8.

The absent voters ballot is now available at City Hall for residents of the city of Escanaba and at the Administration Building, 1219 N. 19th St., for township residents.

The regular monthly clinic scheduled for Wednesday at the Carney-Nadeau School has been cancelled. The clinic will be held on the first Wednesday in March.

Escanaba River Post 115 will hold a regular meeting Wednesday, Feb. 7, at 8 p.m. at the Flat Rock town hall. A rifle cleaning project will be held prior to the meeting. Lunch will be served by the Auxiliary.

Total building area is 482,510 gross square feet located on a 5.17-acre site.

A teaching-research facility, the structure will be built in the university's new Medical Center. It will rise on a site at the southeast corner of Canfield and Brush, three blocks away and 100 years in time from WSU's first medical building which housed the Detroit Medical College. The university's founding dates from the first medical classes held in this structure in 1868.

"The new building represents the first and necessary step in allowing the School of Medicine to increase the entering class of 125 students to 200," says Dr. Gordon H. Scott, vice president for medical school development. "And it is particularly significant to the state since approximately 70 per cent of WSU's medical graduates practice in Michigan."

A nine-story structure consisting of a six-floor tower section and a three-floor base section with basement, the building will be located across Brush St. from Grace and Harper hospitals. It will house the departments of anatomy, physiology, pharmacology, biochemistry, microbiology and pathology, as well as administrative and service facilities.

Total cost of the new medical campus, covering some 25 acres, is estimated at $56 million for land and present and proposed buildings. Costs are being shared by city, state and federal governments.

Alcoholics Are Invited To Meet At Iron River

The third in a series of public meetings dealing with alcoholism and the role of Alcoholics Anonymous in aiding its victims will be held at Iron River City Hall at 8 p.m. Monday, Feb. 12.

The series, under auspices of a local AA public information committee, is geared to a five county area extending from Iron River to Escanaba. The fifth meeting, in October at Iron Mountain and the second meeting, in December at Escanaba, attracted representatives of the clergy, schools, medical profession, the judiciary and others. Members of the legal profession, law enforcement and welfare agencies and the general public have been included in invitations.

The Iron River meeting is free and open to any interested person or organization. A panel discussion will be conducted by two non-alcoholics, a clergyman and a physician; and two alcoholic members of AA. A question and answer period will follow the discussion. Similar speakers are now available for engagements before any club or group, at no charge.

AA is not affiliated with any religious sect or denomination, institution or organization, has nothing to "sell" or promote. Its sole purpose is to help its members maintain sobriety and to offer its services to other problem drinkers who seek relief. There are two AA groups now functioning in Escanaba.

Red Cross Blood Program Aided Millions In 1967

WASHINGTON — To provide health and welfare services to Americans in this country and at U.S. military bases overseas, the American Red Cross spent $108 million in the 1966-67 fiscal year.

Largest item of expenditure was $44 million for services to the nation's armed forces and veterans. This assistance was provided in every county in the United States and in 30 other countries around the world where U.S. troops are stationed.

Each month 99,800 servicemen received welfare services at military stations and medical facilities worldwide. In Vietnam, Red Cross workers served 16,500 cases each month. In the Far East, including southeast Asia, 317,000 servicemen attended recreational events given at Red Cross centers and by clubmobile workers who traveled 36,400 miles to conduct the programs.

A total of 176,700 communications to and from South Vietnam were relayed through the Red Cross.

Other Red Cross activities: The Red Cross gave assistance to 33,100 families in 18,147 disaster situations, including projects. A total of 292,700 certificates were issued to persons who completed courses in home nursing, mother and baby care, and fitness for the future. Cost was $2 million.

When fighting began in the Middle East, the American Red Cross sent drugs donated by pharmaceutical firms, children's clothing and funds to help the International Committee of the Red Cross, the neutral intermediary between the combatants, care for civilian and military casualties. Cost was $418,536.

In the 50th year of youth participation in Red Cross work, a highlight was the inauguration of Project REACH in which teams of high school and college students took health and safety services and recreation to an urban neighborhood, a rural county in the South, several Appalachian communities and an Indian reservation.

Need 400 Donors For Bloodmobile

The Delta County Chapter of the Red Cross annually sponsors Delta County's membership in the blood bank, and supports blood procurement clinics that provide free blood for county people. It is one of the many valuable services of the Red Cross.

The next visit of the bloodmobile will be on the following schedule:

Gladstone - Feb. 13, James T. Jones School, 3 to 7 p.m.
Escanaba - Feb. 14, Teamsters Hall, 2:30 to 7:30 p.m.
Escanaba - Feb. 15, Teamsters Hall, 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

The Delta County quota for the three days totals 307 units, and this will require about 400 donor appointments. Prospective donors are asked to make appointments now by calling the Red Cross, ST 6-3214.

ing 498 relief operations in which 33,981 dwellings were damaged or destroyed, and 151,500 persons received emergency mass care. Total expenditures of $7,289,700 included $196,900 in foreign disaster relief.

The Red Cross collected 2,932,700 units of blood for civilian use and 46,400 units for the Defense Blood Project which ended Nov. 1, 1966. Red Cross collected blood went to 4,300 hospitals and to blood banks. The cost to Red Cross of blood center operations, fractionation of plasma, and research and development was $16 million.

The organization gave 1,214,500 certificates for completion of first aid courses and 2,748,700 for completion of courses in swimming, life saving and small craft safety. A total of 28,600 Red Cross highway stations, mobile units and detachments provided first aid on the highways and at community events. Cost $6 million.

A total of 62,600 nurses were voluntarily enrolled with Red Cross to provide emergency services in their communities; 1,935,600 persons received nursing services at clinics and emergency aid stations, in schools and through community

Eastern U.P. Driving Poor

By The Associated Press

Heavy fog made driving hazardous in several Michigan cities today, but most state highways were in good driving condition.

Fog and frost were reported in Luce, Chippewa and Mackinac Counties in the eastern Upper Peninsula. In St. Ignace, some slippery conditions were caused by the fog.

The Automobile Club of Michigan said Grand Rapids and Muskegon also had heavy fog, while some secondary roads in Macomb and St. Clair Counties were still flooded due to recent rains.

Meeting The Press

Defense Secretary McNamara and Secretary of State Dean Rusk appeared on NBC's "Meet the Press" Sunday, reportedly at the suggestion of President Johnson, to explain his administration's handling of the war in Vietnam.

The questioning revealed the depth of our problem in Southeast Asia.

The panel asked if we are fighting a costly, unending war in South Vietnam to give free choice of statehood to a nation that is not a nation, to a people who don't have the means nor the inclination to form a strong government. If this were so the United States would, in undertaking to help South Vietnam, be taking on an interminable task of buoying up a state with small prospect of attaining self-sufficiency.

Worse, a state which is intolerable to the communist giants of Asia — Russia and Red China — as an American beachhead on the Asiatic mainland. Americans insist we're not a threat to them, but they don't think so and we demanded that Russia withdraw its missiles from Cuba.

Rusk answered a question about the prospect of South Vietnam's self sufficiency in the future only obliquely. He was impressed, he said, by the dogged determination of all elements (except the Viet Cong, of course) in South Vietnam to oppose what North Vietnam was trying to impose upon them (communist rule) by force.

He infers that there are elements in South Vietnam upon which a free nation may be built and he stressed that we Americans cannot expect the efficiency of a totalitarian society in South Vietnam because we are trying to create a democratic (self rule) society there.

McNamara said the South Vietnamese would be the first to endorse what he had said about their status and potential — briefly, that they are trying to create a (democratic) state and that only they can do it; that it cannot be done for them.

The South Vietnamese, said Rusk, could have prevented the infiltration of their country, if they had been a totalitarian society like North Vietnam, "with a watchdog in every house."

Both men, speaking for the Johnson Administration's position in the war, said that there can be peace only if both sides want it. They interpreted the launching of last week's offensive against 20 provincial capitals and Saigon by the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese during Tet, a national religious New Year festival, as indicating that North Vietnam does not seek peace now.

The attacks which captured the capitals were made at a time when the United States was restricting its bomb targets (but not suspending all bombing) in North Vietnam in the hope of encouraging explorations for peace. The feelers for peace have been broken off, said Rusk, but may be resumed.

When McNamara was asked if he would have done things differently if he had his present knowledge of Vietnam, he declined to autopsy but said that he hadn't foreseen the deployment of the 500,000 men that the United States has in South Vietnam today.

McNamara and Rusk said that the South Vietnamese hadn't risen to support the Viet Cong in their offensive and that it had been repulsed with a loss of 15,000 enemy killed, vs. 415 Americans and 904 South Vietnamese killed.

But neither did the South Vietnamese people rally to the support of their new nation in the offensive. Self-survival seems to have been the chief impulse; and apathy. The speakers were right in suggesting that it isn't easy to make a democracy, especially in such a hostile atmosphere as the one in which South Vietnam is trying to survive.

But the dimensions of our commitment in South Vietnam cannot be foreseen and were either inadequately or erroneously considered in our decision to make war there.

McNamara said that it isn't true, as a questioner suggested, that the more Viet Cong we kill the stronger they get. We tend, he said, to give undue importance to the military aspect of the struggle and neglect the political and economic efforts. It is these that arouse even more concern in America than the South Vietnamese role in their war. We are endeavoring to make a democracy on a communist gun range.

Boy Scout Week

Wednesday, Feb. 7, marks the beginning of Boy Scout Week in America. The anniversary theme, Scout-ing Rounds A Guy Out stresses how scouting challenges a boy's mind and gives him an opportunity to develop integrity, skill and self confidence.

Thursday, Feb. 8, Boy Scouts around the world will rededicate themselves to the ideals of scouting. Cub Scouts will highlight national birthday week with Blue and Gold banquets, Explorer Scouts will observe the celebration by performing special service projects for their communities. Special recognition ceremonies will be held to honor and acknowledge the part that leadership has played in the Scout movement.

Local scout units will sponsor a window display featuring the aims and ideals of scouting. Scouts will attend school in uniform and go to the church in uniform on Scout Sunday, Feb. 11.

To 150,000 Scout units in every city and town across the country National Boy Scout week is the largest, single birthday celebration observed by young Americans.

Today one out of every four American boys is a Cub Scout, a Boy Scout or an Explorer Scout. Scouting maintains a forward looking program that strives to train boys to become the leaders of tomorrow.

GI Is Target For Public Frustration

By TOM TIEDE

FT. MEADE, Md. (NEA) — Whenever Army Specialist Hans Bernau leaves this military installation, the first thing he does is shuck his uniform.

Why?
 "Well, uhh, it's not easy to admit," he explains, "but I don't like to wear the thing around civilians. I'm uncomfortable in it. I suppose that I'm just not particularly proud to be seen in it."

Bernau is not unpatriotic. He's honest. He feels that, for many reasons, the uniform of the United States military has lost much of the dignity it once had . . . and so, by association, has its wearer, the American GI.

His opinion, bluntly, is that the image of the GI is at its lowest ebb in modern history. That service to one's country no longer carries public appreciation. And that advertising a military association off post is a good way to receive impolite, even abusive, treatment from too many civilians.

Many of today's 3,415,000 men at arms will agree.

If all of the snickering were confined to kids, of course, military men could shrug it off. But it's not. Adults are especially antagonistic, servicemen claim, and at times downright intimidating.

Some examples:
 • Many young draftees say they are subject to hate mail upon entering service. Some have been advised to go AWOL, others frightened with photos of war casualties. Sometimes the mail is from neighbors and friends.

• Big city-based servicemen admit they seldom stray into particular sections of their towns — especially those areas in which groups of youths spend much time in the streets. Men who do are liable to insults, mockery and verbal spittle.

• Married couples in all services complain of prejudices against them in some military communities. They say they are gouged both financially and socially. They say they are made to feel like second-class citizens.

• Vietnam veterans gripe about the lack of appreciation for their war efforts. Few of them receive hero's welcome on returning home. Even fewer are given specific examples of neighborhood good wishes.

Actually, none of these complaints is entirely new. Military types have suffered similar disadvantages before. Even the quiet reception afforded Vietnam returnees is not altogether different from that given Korean vets.

But some servicemen say the abuses are much more common today and as a result they feel they are being unfairly discriminated against.

"I can even see it in my parents," admits one Pfc. signalman. "I don't think they're really proud of my serving. They just feel sorry for me."

Whatever the extent of GI unpopularity today — and there is evidence to conclude it is widespread — at least two of the reasons for it seem fairly clear — society's changing values and Vietnam.

Maj. Robert Smith, Ft. Meade Community Service director, believes the soldier is simply the innocent victim of the times.

He says many contemporary social problems (the draft, the war, student revolution) result in public frustration and the need for release valves.

The GI, as an easily identified symbol, is the target for much of the frustrated, confused anger.

"It's not just Vietnam," says Smith, "it's everything. People are uncertain about everything. They need a scape-goat. And the soldier is it."

There are, however, less lofty ways of explaining the GI image decline. The frankest is to admit that some soldiers are hardly angels — crude is the word — and that they serve to alienate the civilian population.

Examples of latter brand are many. The drunk, the rowdy, the woman-chasing bores. Soldiers on pass have never been popular anywhere.

Yet the careless soldier is usually outnumbered by the careful ones, and therefore servicemen themselves feel that "blue-nose" resentment is exaggerated.

"Sure we get drunk," the defense is. "We get shot, too. If the Army was made up of preachers, we'd still be a British colony."

Servicemen, even very young servicemen, carry in their memories the Doughboy-praising songs of World War I, the ticker tape parades of World War II, and even the "they-did-the-best-they-could" conclusions of Korea.

They remember newsreels of GIs being snuggled and hugged in jubilation-littered American cities, of huge throngs meeting shiploads of troops, of whole towns turning out to thank bandage-wrapped veterans.

None of it takes place today. And, therefore, many of this generation's servicemen despair over the change in public attitude.

Hero worship, they surmise, is outdated.

"The big thing you discover when you get back home," says one multidecorated officer, "is that damn few people ever knew you were away."

Homecoming disappointment, moreover, is not the only thing that annoys Vietnam returnees. Some of them say that "a growing public disinterest" in today's soldier is evident on several fronts.

For instance:
 • The GI bill today isn't as good, in some respects, as the World War II version. Educational assistance ($130 monthly for singles) won't even pay tuition at some schools. And there is no small business loan provision in the present law.

• Public demonstration over the war creates embarrassment at best, hazards at worst, for Viet participants. Many have been subjected to abuse, others accused of murder, argument seekers are everywhere.

• Jobs are often difficult to find. Unlike other wars, where national efforts were made to locate employment for home-comers, not enough is being done today. Employers are showing no special interest.

In fact, things in general are not like what the Vietnam veteran would wish for a home. And he feels he deserves something better from the public.

What's the matter with people? asks a former Vietnamer. "I did what I was told. I didn't even kill anybody. I did my job. Why am I treated like something that crawled out of the rug?"

In fairness to the truth, few returning soldiers, and few state-side soldiers, are being treated like "something that crawled out of the rug." There has been a steady decline in public appreciation of servicemen in the past 25 years . . . but the attitude is still far from open hostility.

Many people still hold soldiers in general esteem. Congress recently attested this fact by hiking all service pay by nearly 6 per cent.

Some areas, furthermore, are making encouraging efforts to embrace GIs.

But still, most observers admit that good will is nowhere on a par with that shown soldiers of previous war eras. By comparison, it's even shabby. And the situation seems to be getting worse.

PEACE FOR VIETNAM is the goal of GI and demonstrator alike, but nobody knows how to get it. While the war rages, the American serviceman can't help but wonder if the public really cares.

Victor Mollo's list of immortals includes all six members of Italy's blue team. Today's hand shows Massimo D'Alelio and Camillo Pabis-Ticci reaching a fine slam by using their "Arno" system.

There is a general belief in this country that the Italian team plays an Italian system. This is not the actual case. There are three Italian pairs. They play, respectively, the Arno, Roman and Neapolitan systems.

In the Arno system, the no-trump response is forcing to game, and South's two diamond rebids shows that he has an unbalanced hand with at least five diamonds and probably more diamonds than hearts. With six hearts and four diamonds, he would either open one diamond or not show diamonds at all.

Since the one no-trump was a game force and the three diamond an unbalanced hand with good diamond support, Pabis-Ticci's four club bid was clearly showing slam interest, and West's useless double gave D'Alelio a chance to redouble to show the ace. Pabis-Ticci's four heart bid showed the tops in that suit, and when D'Alelio showed the spade ace, Pabis-Ticci had no worries about contracting for the laydown slam. This hand took place in a match against England. The British Acol system had no trouble reaching "three no-trump, but the British never got into slam focus at all.

We concede that this was a rather tough slam to bid considering that North and South held only 25 high card points between them, but we do feel that standard American methods should get there. The American bidding would start with one diamond by South and a two club response by North. South would then bid two hearts. In this situation, the two heart bid merely shows a sound opening—not the very strong hand some reverse bids show. From then on there would be no trouble getting to the same six diamonds the Italians reached.

Ann Landers

Unmarried Couples Puzzling To Reader

Dear Ann Landers: Can you tell me, please, why two attractive, intelligent people would go together for years and years and never marry? I know of three such couples. One couple went to Europe together last summer and made no attempt to keep it quiet. They even sent postcards!

Why don't these people make it legal? They could file joint income tax reports, live in one lavish apartment instead of paying rent for two modest places. On the domestic side, they could raise a family and have a normal family life.

I've spent a lot of time thinking about this and I can't come up with any answers. Can you — PRAGMATIC OBSERVER

Dear Prag: Unless you are one of the principals in such an arrangement, don't spend any more time thinking about it because it's nobody's business but theirs.

What you consider a mystery is in my opinion obvious. People who go together for years and years and do not marry are unwilling to surrender what they consider their wholeness. As time goes on they feel less inclined to make the personal sacrifices which marriage demands. So — they go on enjoying the benefits of marriage without having to put up with the disadvantages — or so it seems to THEM.

Dear Ann Landers: Don't you think you are overdoing the "see a psychiatrist" bit? I refer to the letter from the mother whose 6-year-old son who broke his toys, tore up magazines and books, knocked holes in the wall and got into fights with other children. You advised the mother to take him to a specialist, I raised three boys and I'd say the behavior described by the mother sounds like par for the course.

Why does every hostile act have to be "abnormal behavior"? Maybe the boy needs an outlet for his energies—something to bang on? Why didn't you suggest that the mother buy the child a set of drums and send him for lessons? We did that with our two older boys and it worked out fine. A set of drums and some lessons do not come cheap but they cost a lot less than a psychiatrist. — NEWARK

Dear Newark: When a mother tells me that her 6-year-old son breaks up everything he gets his hands on, knocks holes in the wall and is forever hitting other children, I suggest professional help. If the specialist wants to suggest drum lessons, that's all right with me, but I recommend a specialist.

Dear Ann Landers: My husband's young brother had his 18th birthday two months ago. We went all out and bought him a beautiful set of luggage.

Yesterday the boy and his parents came to our home for dinner. The moment they entered the house, the boy's mother said, "My that was beautiful luggage you sent Gregory for his birthday." With that, Gregory piped up, "Gee, it is sure neat. Thanks a lot."

When they left I told my husband I thought it was pretty sad that Gregory's mother had to bring up the subject of the luggage and that the boy should have written a thank-you note. My husband said, "Boys don't have to write thank-you notes." How about it? — J.L.T.

Dear J.L.T.: Boys accept gifts, don't they? Why shouldn't they say thank you? If a note is too much trouble, a phone call could have served the purpose. Your nephew sounds like a bit of a clod and unfortunately it's his mother's fault.

If you have trouble getting along with your parents . . . if you can't get them to let you live your own life, send for Ann Landers' booklet, "Bugged By Parents? How To Get More Freedom." Send 50c in coin with your request and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Costs Hamper Pollution Control

The biggest problem in combating municipal water pollution problems in Michigan today is money, Cletus Courchaine, sanitary engineer in charge of the northern peninsula office of the Michigan Dept. of Public Health, told the Escanaba Lions Club Monday night.

"We know the problems, know the cost and have the technical ability to solve the problem," Courchaine said.

He pointed out that Michigan has been allocated by the federal government $7.4 million for municipal water pollution control. These funds will be used to match state and local money to finance pollution control facilities.

Asks Funds

Courchaine said that Gov. George Romney has requested a supplemental appropriation from the Michigan Legislature to increase a $1.2 million state appropriation already made. Should the legislature approve a total program of about $24 million in new construction could be initiated this year.

Against this, however, some 98 communities have filed applications for assistance with projects totaling $200 million.

Courchaine said Gov. Romney also has asked the legislature to send to Michigan voters this November a proposal asking approval of a $335 million statewide bond issue for water pollution control.

He urged Lions club members to learn about the water pollution problem, offer constructive criticism and suggestions to local legislators and councilmen, support federal and state legislation and support local bond issues.

Lions Join Fight

Lions District Gov. Philip Cohodas of Iron Mountain said Michigan Lions Clubs have already joined to support pollution control problems. Cohodas visited the Escanaba Club as part of the district governor's annual visitation of clubs in the district.

The Escanaba Lions will join the Ford River, Bark River and Wells Lions Clubs Monday, Feb. 19, in a formal initiation program at the Ford River Lions clubhouse. Members should make dinner reservations by Feb. 15 with secretary Ralph Anderson.

Study 'Copter Inter-City Loop

WASHINGTON (AP) — The General Services Administration is studying the possibility of establishing helicopter service between federal buildings in the center of major cities, and outlying airports.

A spokesman said Monday questions being studied include the need for such services, whether they should be on a regular or occasional basis, how and by whom they should be operated, whether passenger service could be combined with mail transport, and whether existing or future federal buildings should be equipped for helicopter stops.

He said initial studies would be made in the following cities: Detroit, New York, San Francisco, Chicago, Philadelphia, Los Angeles, St. Louis, Denver, Cleveland, Atlanta, Kansas City, Cincinnati, Seattle, New Orleans and Portland, Ore.

DeStigter Seeks Election Change

LANSING (AP) — A member of the House of Representatives, who discovered last December he was ineligible to run for a State Senate seat, Monday introduced two measures designed to change that ineligibility.

Also introduced was a bill calling for a pooled-risk system of guaranteeing basic property insurance in riot-threatened urban areas, a measure recommended by Gov. George Romney after last summer's racial outbreaks.

Rep. Melvin DeStigter, R-Hudsonville, forced to withdraw from a Senate race last year, introduced a bill and a constitutional amendment which would permit legislators to run for other elective offices during their terms.

Legion Meeting Held Monday

Cloverland Post 82 of the American Legion met Monday night at the Legion clubrooms with Commander Roman Gill presiding. It was announced that Ishpeming will host the U.P. State convention and the State spring convention will be held in Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., in April.

Roman Gill and William Butler, delegates to the U.P. mid-winter conference Feb. 2-3-4 gave reports on the conference activities. C. Elmer Olson has been named chairman of arrangements for the 49th birthday party of the Post.

William Butler, Wolverine Boy's State chairman, stated that arrangements are underway to send another Escanaba boy to Boy's State this summer. Feb. 19 is the date of the next regular meeting.

Illegal Entry Brings Fine And Probation

Delano J. Dixon, 34, of Gladstone Rte. 1, Monday was fined and placed on probation after pleading guilty in Municipal Court to a charge of illegal entry and malicious destruction of property.

He was ordered to pay fine and costs of $40, make restitution for the damage to window screens, and sentenced to 90 days probation.

Escanaba police reported that at 12:36 a. m. Sunday Mrs. Verna McRae, who resides in an apartment above the Sav-Mor Market at 306 Stephenson Ave., heard someone at the window of her bedroom. She called out and the man fled.

Her son, Merton McRae, who was returning home, grappled with the fleeing man who was later identified as Dixon, and whose jacket was torn off in the struggle. Dixon's arrest and arraignment followed on Monday.

Escanaba Man Hurt In Crash

IRON MOUNTAIN — An Escanaba man was injured in a car-truck collision on U. S. 2 in Vulcan Saturday.

Dickinson County sheriff's officers said a truck driven by Theodore E. Kleiman of Escanaba collided with a car driven by Colleen M. Sullivan of Loretto. Damage was estimated at $800 to the car and $350 to the truck.

Kleiman suffered a head cut and was treated at Anderson Memorial Hospital, Norway and released.

Officers said Miss Sullivan's car skidded on icy pavement into the path of Kleiman's truck. She was ticketed for failure to have her car under control.

$75 For Michigan

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State of Michigan is $75 richer, thanks to federal Interior Department funds totaling $22 million. Altogether, 24 states were designated to share in the money, which is derived from federal land operations. Michigan's share wasn't the smallest, however. Illinois got $15.

Garbage Piles In Street: Union Defies Court; Strike In Fifth Day

NEW YORK (AP) — The city moved in court today to have the leaders of the 10,000-member Union Sanitationmen's Association punished for contempt in failing to call off a garbage collectors' strike now in its fifth day.

The legal maneuvering continued as heaps of garbage at the rate of 10,000 tons a day piled up in the streets. The Hospital Employees Union, saying it wouldn't allow its members to become "scabs," refused to let them carry out an order to haul off refuse from the city's 71 hospitals.

The sanitationmen's union continued to defy a temporary court order to return to work. It was issued under a state law banning strikes by public employees and providing that unions which call such a strike may be fined, lose their dues checkoff privileges and have their leaders jailed.

After a two-week teachers' strike last fall, the teachers union was fined $150,000; their president, Albert Shanker, was jailed for 15 days over Christmas, and the union had its checkoff rights suspended.

Night-Long Talks

John J. DeLury, president of the sanitationmen's union, an affiliate of the Teamsters Union, revealed that negotiations with Herbert L. Haber, the city's director of labor relations, went on through the night, breaking up at 6 a.m.

There was apparently no advance toward a settlement of the wage and fringe-benefit dispute. Mayor John V. Lindsay had ordered the Hospital Department drivers to remove garbage from the hospitals under "full police protection," but their union refused to consent.

"We are not going to be used as strikebreakers," said Nick Cifuni, division director of the AFL-CIO Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees.

Lindsay issued his order to the drivers after Health Department officials declared a limited emergency affecting the hospitals where accumulations "are particularly hazardous because of the infectious nature of the waste."

May Call Guard

As the waste of a great city piled up at the rate of 10,000 tons a day, the mayor was asked if he had any plans to seek National Guard aid in the strike.

Lindsay said that his staff had been in close contact with Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's staff over the "increasingly serious" health problem but added there were "no present plans" to call the guard.

State Supreme Court Justice Saul S. Streit issued a temporary injunction against the strike Monday after declaring: "It is an illegal strike to the detriment of the public—eight million men, women and children."

Seek Appeal

Union lawyer Paul O'Dwyer said he would appeal the back-to-work order commenting: "This kind of mischievousness and interference by the court has never settled a strike."

The 10,000-member union walked off the job Friday in the face of another court order. O'Dwyer argued that the strike was unauthorized: "A union leader is not a dictator. It is the will of the workers that is the deciding voice."

The union sought an annual wage increase of $600 and the city has offered $400. Pay is now scaled from $6,424 to $7,965 annually after three years. The old contract expired June 30.

Forest Owners Are Choosing Tree Species

By JEAN WORTH

The strongest influence now at work for change in Upper Peninsula forestry seems to be the trend toward management of forest lands.

So far this trend is strongest in the government forests and in the big industrial forests, but it is beginning to be felt in the smaller private forests, too.

It consists, basically, in making a decision about what the forest lands shall grow. Should the owner manage it for production of hardwood sawlogs, or for aspen pulpwood, or spruce-fir pulpwood, etc?

These are basic decisions which set up the forest type and management practices. This is a relatively new situation. The historic way in U.P. forestry has been to let nature decide what she'd grow on the land and then to cut the trees after they were mature and wait for another crop.

Nature's Way

Nature doesn't always renew a forest with the same kind of trees when the forest is cut. She's more apt to work in "cycles" of differing species which work up toward what's called a "climax" forest.

Man is always interfering with nature. He does it every morning when he shaves. He does it in the forest when he cuts the trees. This upsets nature's cycles.

When trees were cheap and plentiful and forest land taxes were low the wood industries didn't know as much about forestry as they do today and they pretty much took pot luck on what nature grew in the forests.

They can't afford to do that today. It takes a long time to grow a tree to a size for efficient processing and the taxes on the land make it much more expensive wood fiber than it used to be. The obvious hedge is to grow the wood that's needed in the fastest possible time and produce the highest possible quality.

What To Grow?

This need is making more and more timberland owners decide what they want to grow and for what purposes.

The biggest wood market in the Upper Peninsula is the pulpwood market. It takes wood smaller than sawlog size and pulping technicians have developed ways of using nearly all species of wood except cedar to make paper or paper board of some kind.

But if all landowners were to manage their forest lands for the production of pulpwood our forest industries would be cheated and so would the landowner. There would then be no high-quality, high-priced woods produced for lumber, veneers, and such uses.

The soil type is the major element in determining what the land should grow. It is a strong control in natural forestation, but it is not infallible, as some trees will grow — but poorly — in soils not suited to their growth.

Soil Type Bases

The great Hiawatha National Forest which stretches from Escanaba to Sault Ste. Marie and embraced 840,000 federally-owned acres is the first federal forest in the nation to be fully soil typed. This provides a scientific basis for a forest management plan.

It is now known what trees will grow best in certain areas because the soil types are known. Cutting policies, plantings and other management practices will now change the character of the forest by design and not by happenstance. The process is already underway with diminishing of the acreage of the most dominant stand type — aspen — a fast growing, very soft wood which is sought for pulping where it is not too far from pulp mills.

Aspen Harvest

Aspen harvest policy is one of the big decisions of U.P. forestry at this time. One reason why this species is declining is because it is very intolerant of competition from other species. When aspen is cut and young maples, for instance, are left standing, the aspen regeneration will not thrive. There are thousands of acres of such forest in the U.P. today, but the growing tendency seems to be to clear cut good aspen stands so that aspen is renewed on the land for a quick crop with high marketability.

This kind of management, however, does not encourage development of stands of trees of higher value. The extensive research at the Dukes Experimental Forest in northern hardwoods management recommends that northern hardwoods should not be clear cut. Sites should be managed for their highest value trees like yellow birch, hard maple, etc.

Aspen, however, produces a tremendous amount of wood fibre on some sites and it will be well to clear cut in such areas to assure aspen regeneration. The lesson, say foresters, is that individual judgments must be made on small forest areas and blanket forest management policies for large areas should be avoided.

CD Home Study Returns Urged

Residents received a questionnaire in the mail for the Michigan home fallout protection survey and have not yet returned it should complete and send it in now, Mason E. Johnson, director of the Civil Defense for Delta County, said today.

It's still not too late to have radioactive fallout protection of your home evaluated, he emphasized.

The mail questionnaire survey will be concluded shortly by the federal Bureau of the Census.

Seventy-two cities of 10,000 or more population are involved in the mail survey. Residents in the remainder of the state were visited by Census Bureau interviewers earlier and this phase of the survey has been completed.

Latest Census Bureau figures show that more than one million questionnaires have been returned by Michigan households. These are evaluated by computer at Census Bureau facilities in Jeffersonville, Ind., and a confidential report of the fallout protection provided by his home is sent to each household. He also receives information for improving the protection.

In Escanaba 3,240 or 72.4 per cent of the household's responded in the mail survey, according to an early January summary. Of those homes involved in the program, 2,790 had basements, 318 did not.

Johnson said to make this program a success, every questionnaire must be returned whether you rent or own the home you live in, whether you occupy a one-family home or a house with two or more families, an apartment, or any type of dwelling.

After the survey is completed city and county officials will be furnished statistical summaries giving the total number of homes that could serve as fallout shelters for the families and the total number of residents who could be protected in them. These totals will aid officials in planning shelter for everyone in case of emergency, Johnson said.

Kennedy Urges Truth On War

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Edward M. Kennedy says the massive Viet Cong attacks on South Vietnam population centers reveal the "deadly apathy" of the South Vietnamese.

The Massachusetts Democrat, who has often criticized corruption within the South Vietnamese government, said the surprise Viet Cong attacks would have been impossible "if there were a population in South Vietnam that felt even a reasonable allegiance to its own government."

Kennedy, in a Monday speech to the American Advertising Association, added:

"Unless we assume that the enemy has the strongest internal security system known, it would have to be said that there was no one in those 26 cities and Saigon who felt compelled to inform the central government of the time and place of even one of these attacks."

As Kennedy spoke, Republican presidential hopeful Richard M. Nixon said in Wisconsin that the guerrilla attacks prove Americans aren't being kept fully informed about the war's progress.

Before the Viet Cong raids, Nixon said, there had been optimistic reports issued in Washington indicating the military operation was going well or that "peace was around the corner."

But meanwhile, Nixon added, "apparently our hard intelligence indicated that not only was the enemy capable of doing what it did in this last offensive, it is capable of doing it again."

He said the Johnson administration "would be much better advised to tell the American people the truth about the enemy's strength and the enemy's intentions, and at the same time make very clear that we're not going to cave in to this kind of assault."

Escapes Caught; Arms Recovered

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — Michigan Gov. George Romney will visit several southeastern Wisconsin cities Friday prior to speaking at a Lincoln Day dinner in Wisconsin Rapids, his Milwaukee campaign headquarters said Monday night.

The Republican presidential hopeful, who spent two days in Wisconsin last weekend warming up for the state's April 2 presidential preference primary, is to arrive Thursday night in Milwaukee from Detroit.

His Friday agenda includes appearances in Racine, Kenosha, Elkhorn, Beloit and Janesville. He is to leave Milwaukee Saturday morning.

Six State Men Die In Vietnam

WASHINGTON (AP) — Five Michigan servicemen are included in a Defense Department list of 149 killed in action in Vietnam.

The casualty list was one of the longest ever prepared by the Pentagon, and was believed a reflection of last week's stepped up communist offensive.

Servicemen from Michigan killed in action were:

Army Spec. 4 Charles A. Kronberg, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Kronberg of East Detroit; Army Spec. 4 Darrel A. Shelle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Grady Shelle Jr. of Detroit; Army Spec. 4 Vernon C. Wilderspin, husband of Mrs. Lee A. Wilderspin of East Lansing; Marine Pfc. Ricky D. Henderson, son of Benjamin D. Henderson of Detroit, and Marine Pfc. Michael V. Murray, son of Mrs. Maryknell Moore of Detroit.

In addition, Marine 2nd Lt. Thomas H. Staples, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas O. Staples of Petersburg, died of wounds he suffered previously.

One fugitive, Jack Hewitt, 26, of Ferndale, was apprehended near the home of his sister in Madison Heights, a Detroit suburb. Police said some weapons were recovered in the arrest of Hewitt.

The other convict, William R. Gager, 24, was arrested in his home town of Saginaw.

The two stole two pistols and two rifles Sunday in their flight from the farm at the prison near Jackson. Police said the pair took the weapons from a man in a house near the prison and left the man tied.

the interim Daily Express. Two other papers, the Daily Dispatch and the Daily Press, which also published during Detroit's record 134-day newspaper strike in 1964, also are involved in the probe.

"I think the Daily Press clearly established that they wanted to publish and were ready to sign anything in order to continue," said Huber Monday.

"But they were shut down. That would indicate that whether you are The Detroit News, the Free Press, or one of the interim papers, if the union doesn't want you to publish, you don't publish."

into the cities campaign. The total jumped more than 4,000 in 24 hours after the fighting had died down in a number of places, but a U.S. spokesman said clogged communication lines may have delayed some casualty reports.

The U.S. Command said allied losses were 1,729 killed, including 546 Americans, and 1,785 wounded, 3,084 of them Americans.

Civilian casualties were estimated in the thousands and the number of civilians made homeless swelled into the hundreds of thousands. Saigon alone had more than 50,000 huddled in refugee centers, and thousands more poured from suburbs where they said police were unable to protect them from marauding guerrillas.

South Vietnamese troops in Hue reported they had recaptured all of the ancient walled citadel except the southeast wall. But they reported heavy resistance still coming from positions along that wall.

Romney interspersed his talk of Republican politics with a series of assaults on President Johnson.

"We have a great credibility gap in this country," Romney said, adding that was demonstrated by the crisis over the North Korean capture of the intelligence ship Pueblo. "After two weeks we finally find out that probably that ship violated territorial waters," he said.

He said that Johnson "in my opinion is leading this nation to ruin."

Arrest No. 5 For Burglary

An Escanaba young man who telephoned police last night to come and pick him up, today is being arraigned on a charge of breaking and entering — the fifth arrest in connection with a series of burglaries in the area.

James McGillis, 22, was taken into custody about 11 p.m. by Escanaba police and lodged in the Delta County jail.

He will be arraigned today before Justice Edward Golds-worthy of Gladstone, charged with the breaking and entering of a service station at Perkins; and on Wednesday he will be taken into Municipal Court at Escanaba charged with breaking and entering Holy Name High School on Jan. 21.

Four other young men are held for trial in Circuit Court on breaking and entering charges. Their arrests followed investigations by Escanaba police and State Police.

They are Raymond P. Bero, 19, of Gladstone Rte. 1 (not 408 N. 9th St.) charged with the burglary of the Hanley Service Station in Escanaba; Robert Trombley, 20, of 1009 2nd Ave. N., charged with the Hanley breaking and entering; Jack Deacon, 20, of Danforth, charged with breaking and entering a service station at Perkins; and Daniel L. LaCrosse, 17, of 1212 Minnesota Ave., Gladstone, charged with the Perkins service station burglary.

Officers said that McGillis was involved in the Perkins breaking and entering as well as the burglary of Holy Name High School.

A 15-year-old boy, involved with others in the Perkins job, was referred to Juvenile Court.

Senators' Home Offices Survive Repeal Attempt

LANSING (AP) — Opponents of a plan to set up home district offices for state senators picked up strength Monday night, but failed in a second attempt to repeal the controversial measure.

Despite the defeat, the district office plan faced tough shelling in the Senate Appropriations Committee which could play a crucial role in approving money to set it in motion.

Sen. Robert Vander Laan, R-Grand Rapids, originally a staunch supporter of district offices, sponsored a second resolution to repeal the plan—which senators approved 19-11 last Wednesday.

Vander Laan introduced the second repealer and moved to suspend the rules for an immediate floor vote. But his motion received only 12 votes, six short of the required number. The repealer was sent to the Senate Business Committee.

Repealer Blocked

The Vander Laan move was a repeat of last Thursday's action in which he received only four votes to suspend the rules for an immediate vote on a repealer.

There was little hope that the repealer resolution could be reported out of the committee. Although Vander Laan is chairman of the committee, the other four members refused to report out the first repealer on Thursday.

Two of the committee members, majority leader Emil Lockwood, R-St. Louis, and minority leader Raymond Dzendzel, D-Detroit, were sponsors of the original resolution calling for establishment of the offices.

Funding In Doubt

However, Vander Laan expressed confidence that opponents of the plan would win in the end.

"We'll make it eventually," he said. "The plan will not be implemented."

"We'll get a resolution to repeal it or the appropriations committee will not approve the funds for it," he said.

All five GOP members of the appropriations committee voted against the plan Wednesday. They are Sens. Frank Beadle of St. Clair, Harold Hungerford of Lansing, John Toeppe of Cadillac, Milton Zaagman of Grand Rapids and Charles Zoliar of Benton Harbor.

The three Democratic appropriations members, Sens. Garland Lane of Flint, Gerald Hart of Saginaw and Joseph Mack of Ironwood, voted for the plan.

Cost: $700,000

The plan's backers have estimated it would cost approximately $700,000 a year if all 38 senators wanted to set up offices in their districts.

"In the first place, the vast majority of the Republicans still are opposed to the plan," Vander Laan said.

Fourteen Democrats and five Republicans voted for the original resolution to allow setting up of district offices. The measure was opposed by 11 Republicans.

The* Republicans caucused after the brief Senate session Monday night, but Lockwood said the Vander Laan repealer was not discussed in depth.

Holland Teachers Accept Contract

HOLLAND (AP) — Teachers in the Holland school district, ordered back to classrooms by a circuit court injunction last September, voted Monday to accept a salary pact for the present and the next school years. The vote was 179-14.

They agreed to accept the Holland Board of Education's offer for salaries ranging from $5,950 to $9,400 this year, and from $6,600 to $10,500 for the 1968-69 school year.

However, a few nongovernment items still have to be settled before contract negotiations between the board and Holland Education Association are recessed.

The teachers went on strike for four days in September until a court order was issued. They appealed the decision, to the State Supreme Court, which has not yet returned a ruling.

Aids Smog Fight

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Amy Steinback, 9, is so concerned about smog in Portland that she sent her 25 cents allowance to Gov. Tom McCall to help fight air pollution.

The third-grader wrote, "I am ... very sorry that the air was ever dirty. Last night it was so thick you couldn't see the street light. The paper said that ours is thicker than New York. Here is 25 cents to help you."

Train Dropping Halt Is Sought By Congressman

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. John M. Slack Jr., D-W.Va., urges a moratorium on passenger train discontinuances pending the development of a national transportation policy.

"This is not the proper time to approve further passenger train service abandonment," Slack said.

He urged the Interstate Commerce Commission to reject an application by the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway to trim its passenger service between the Atlantic Seaboard and the Midwest.

Slack was one of the first witnesses listed at an ICC hearing today on the proposed train cuts. His prepared testimony was released in advance.

His Name On Street Removed

NEW SCOTLAND, N.Y. (AP) — When friends wanted to visit Joseph Dominski in this community just outside Albany they had a hard time finding his house—the street he lived on had no name.

Dominski complained to the Town Board. At a loss to find a better name, the board decided to call the street "Dominski Lane."

But once the sign was up, several townsmen recalled that the street's long-forgotten name was "Mill Road" — and the board ruled the Dominski sign will have to be replaced.

U.S. May Buy Compact Cars

WASHINGTON (AP) — With standard automobiles already costing the government as much as it is allowed by law to pay, Uncle Sam is thinking about buying compact cars, an official said Monday.

But the official, Heinz A. Abersfeller, commissioner of the Federal Supply Service, a branch of the General Services Administration, said he personally doubts the problem could be solved that way.

"Many agencies have already gone to compacts where that serves their needs," Abersfeller said. "We need to re-examine that possibility. I don't think, personally, it's going to be the solution, but I don't want to foreclose it before we study it."

Abersfeller said foreign compact cars probably wouldn't do, since they generally don't meet government specifications with the price limit.

If compacts are not the answer, the GSA probably would have to ask Congress to raise the statutory ceiling on the wholesale price government agencies are allowed to pay for standard sedans.

The decision hasn't been made yet because the present ceiling hasn't been broken yet, but the showdown could come almost any time.

The government is allowed to pay $1,500 for a sedan, and that's exactly what the last accepted bid was.

The GSA expects to seek bids late this month or early in March on 3,000 to 4,000 sedans and will wait about one month for the bids to come in. If they are above $1,500 per car, GSA cannot make the award, and will have to go either to compacts, which sell for about $100 less, or ask Congress to raise the ceiling.

The government ceiling on station wagons is $1,950 and the last awards were at $1,947.12.

Engineers Will Hear Maj. Grodt

"Engineering ... Design for World Health" is the theme for the 1968 National Engineers Week, Feb. 18-24, and Gary Barton, president of the Douglas Houghton Chapter of the Michigan Society of Professional Engineers, says it seeks "increased public awareness of the many technical problems in world health and of the role that engineers are playing in applying knowledge of engineering and biological science for health protection purposes."

The local section of the Douglas Houghton Chapter, which includes professional engineers from Delta and Menominee counties and the Manistique area, is sponsoring a dinner at the House of Ludington on Feb. 23 to commemorate the event. Speakers will be Major George A. Grodt, base civil engineer at K. I. Sawyer Air Base. His topic will be the rehabilitation of an Army Base in Alaska after a disastrous flood in the fall of 1967.

The week of George Washington's birthday is Engineers Week since the first president of the United States was a civil and military engineer.

Wing Commander Col. R. M. Hoban and Base Commander Col. Thomas L. Murphy from K. I. Sawyer will be guests of the society and it is expected that other personnel from the base engineering department will attend.

The public is invited to attend this meeting. Anyone wishing to participate should make reservations with Dr. Richard Rinehart at the Bay de Noc Community College.

Local sections of the Douglas Houghton Chapter of the Society of Professional Engineers will be conducting dinner meetings throughout the Peninsula during this week. Co-ordination of these meetings is being handled by Joseph Bal, Gladstone, publicity chairman.

With RAY CRANDALL

Manistique Sport Fan: Thanks for calling our attention to the error in the Associated Press release on Hall of Famer Goose Goslin. He played for the Tigers in the 1935 World Series and collected the key hit in the sixth game off Larry French of the Cubs, as you point out.

When Menominee's Dewey Bellisle sat out last Friday's game against Escanaba because of an ankle injury it marked the first time in 53 consecutive contests that the 5 foot 11 inch junior failed to start . . . He has been a regular since the second game in his freshman season.

The 122 points scored by Pan American against Northern last weekend represents the highest total ever tallied against a Wildcat quint, breaking the previous record of 119 set by St. Norbert in 1953 . . . The 122-89 defeat was the third straight for Coach Stan Albeck's cagers on their disastrous road trip beginning with Purdue and Lamar Tech.

Gary Sackech, the 6 foot 6 inch senior center at Crystal Falls, rifled in 44 points to lead the Trojans to a 100-77 Menominee Range Conference victory over Kingsford . . . Sackech also yanked down 26 rebounds, only two less than the entire Flivver team . . . The triumph was Crystal Falls' 11th in 13 starts.

Iron River made it seven in a row and boosted its overall season record to 9-2 with a 60-45 romp over Norway in another Range contest . . . Wayne Lewis, 6 foot 4 inch pivotman, led the Redskins with 21 points and an equal number of rebounds.

Ishpeming sewed up its third straight Great Lakes Conference title by pinning a 76-70 setback on the Soo Blue Devils . . . The victory was the eighth straight in the league and 12th in 13 starts overall for Coach Gordy Farragh's Hematites . . . Ed Stimac connected on 12 of 16 attempts from the field and added nine free throws for 33 points to pace Ishpeming while Judd Hovson hit 26 for Soo.

In spite of a 38 point scoring performance by Larry Ruffatto, the Marquette Redmen suffered a 70-64 upset at the hands of the Negaunee Miners in another Great Lakes clash . . . Negaunee snapped a 64-64 deadlock to score six points in the final 60 seconds of action . . . Bill Bath led the Miners with 23 points.

All five St. Ignace starters reached double scoring figures but it wasn't enough as the Saints dropped a 77-70 decision to downstate Petoskey in a Straits-Huron Conference battle . . . The teams are tied for the league with 6-2 records . . . St. Ignace outscored Petoskey by six field goals, 29 to 23, but was unable to match the Northernmen from the free throw line.

Baraga knocked off front-running Painesdale, 61-59, to clamber into a tie for first place in the Copper Country Conference race . . . The Vikings won it from the free throw line, hitting on 11 of 17 attempts . . . Painesdale outscored Baraga from the field, 27 goals to 25, but made only five of 12 from the charity stripe . . . Both teams now have 9-2 CCC marks.

In addition to rescheduling the postponed game with Rock on Feb. 26, Rapid River has added a game to its schedule with DeTour on Feb. 20 . . . The contest against the Eastern conference leader will be played at the Rapid River gym.

Underdog Role Puzzles Mathis As Fight Nears

NEW YORK (AP) — If Buster Mathis beat Joe Frazier twice in the amateurs, why is he a 2-1 underdog in a battle of undefeated pros for New York's version of the world heavyweight crown?

That is the question that is puzzling Mathis these days as he prepares for the March 4 match with Frazier as part of an unusual title doubleheader on the first boxing show at the new Madison Square Garden.

"I learn something new every time I fight," said Mathis who has trained down from a blub-

Oldest Hockey Player Is Dead

HOUGHTON (AP) — Services for Wellington Washburn, one of the oldest former professional hockey players in the United States, will be held Thursday morning in Houghton.

Washburn died in a hospital in nearby Hancock Sunday night at the age of 89.

Washburn was a member of the Portage Lake team from 1899 to 1902. It was the Portage Lake team which, in 1904, won the hockey world championship by defeating a team from Montreal in a two-game series.

At the time of his death, Washburn served as an advertising consultant with the Houghton Mining Gazette.

Surviving are a daughter and two sons. Washburn's wife died last month.

Peninsula Pair Top State Poll

By The Associated Press

Powerful Ewen-Trout Creek, victorious in 13 of 14 starts this year, nudged Adrian Catholic out of the No. 1 spot in The Associated Press Class D high school basketball poll this week.

The AP's panel of sports writers and sportscasters gave the nod to Ewen-Trout Creek by 11 points. Voting is based on 10 points for a first place ballot, nine for second, etc., all the way down to one point for a 10th vote.

Lawrence, which walloped Lawton 74-45 last Friday, moved into the Top Ten in Class D, replacing Painesdale Jeffers, beaten 61-59 by Baraga.

There were no major changes in the other three classes. Detroit Pershing won its 20th straight game behind Ralph Simpson's 55 points to remain No. 1 in Class A.

Menominee, now 13-0, leads in Class B and unbeaten Detroit

Michigan Wins First Game In Big Ten Action

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Sunday dinner in Hamtramck cost Michigan's super sophomore Rudy Tomjanovich 10 minutes on the bench but it didn't affect his shooting eye.

Michigan Coach Dave Strack, angered because his top scorer missed practice because of a trip to his home town, benched Tomjanovich for the first 10 minutes of the Minnesota game Monday night.

Tomjanovich, a 6-foot-7 jumping jack, responded with 30 points, 22 in the last half, as Michigan manhandled Minnesota 113-101 for its first Big Ten victory of the season.

"He had some problems Sunday and missed our practice," said Strack, who declined to confirm reports that Tomjanovich had taken the day off to see relatives. "We wanted him to take a look at Minnesota before he went in."

There wasn't much to see. The Gophers, now 1-6 in the conference and 4-13 over-all, fell behind 58-53 at the half and never recovered.

Jim Pitts, with 26 points, and Dennis Stewart, with 25, joined in the barrage as Michigan shot a resounding 58 per cent from the floor to limp out of the Big Ten cellar with a 1-5 mark. The victory boosted the Wolverines' over-all record to 6-9.

Buckeyes Gain Cage Prestige

By The Associated Press

The Buckeyes of Ohio State, relegated to the second division in Big Ten basketball circles for the past three seasons after winning or sharing five consecutive titles, are moving back to the top.

Ohio State strengthened the theory that the Buckeyes might be the only class team in the Big Ten Monday night with a pulsating 78 - 77 victory over the Hoosiers at Indiana.

It gave Ohio State a 5-1 record in the conference and 12-4 for the season. The victory was the second on the road this season for Ohio State which suffered its only conference loss at Iowa last month in a 74-72 overtime battle.

Trailing by as much as 11 points in the first half and by five points in the final minutes of play, the Buckeyes never lost control of themselves and sealed the verdict when Sophomore Dan Andreas popped in a 12 - foot jump shot with one second left for the victory.

While Ohio State was pulling two victories ahead of second place Illinois, Michigan recorded its first conference triumph of the year and dumped Minnesota into the cellar 113-101.

Second place Illinois, with a surprising 3-1 record, will be at Wisconsin Tuesday night in a battle for second place. A victory for Wisconsin would lift the badgers into a second place tie, one game behind Ohio State.

Still another conference game finds Purdue at Iowa Wednesday night. It marks the first time in history that a Big Ten game will be played on a Wednesday.

A full schedule is on tap Saturday with Illinois at Northwestern, Indiana at Wisconsin, Michigan State at Ohio State, and Minnesota at Purdue and Iowa at Michigan.

Howe Is Third In Point List

NEW YORK (AP) — Gordie Howe, who knows the road almost by heart, is back near the top of the National Hockey League's scoring race again.

Howe, the 22-year Detroit veteran, who has won the NHL scoring title record six times, notched eight points last week and jumped into third place behind Chicago's Bobby Hull and Stan Mikita.

Mikita leads the race with 60 points on 29 goals and 31 assists. Hull, whose 36 goals lead the league, has 59 over-all points and Howe, who scored his 675th career goal Sunday, has 55 points.

Howe, who is 39, had four goals and four assists in Detroit's three games last week and moved past Boston's Phil Esposito into third place. Esposito's 54 points give him fourth place, two points ahead of Detroit's Alex Delvecchio, whose 36 assists lead the league.

Fred Stanfield of Boston is sixth with 50 points, one better than Chicago's Ken Wharram. Rod Gilbert and Jean Ratelle, both of New York, share eighth place with 48 points and Johnny Bucyk of Boston has 47.

Eskey Matmen Home Friday

The undefeated Escanaba High School wrestling team will make its next home start against Iron Mountain Friday night at 7:30.

In addition to an unblemished record in dual competition this season the Eskymo grapplers have captured the Great Northern Conference championship and the Kingsford Invitational crown.

Packers' Payoff Nearly $25,000 For Full Share

NEW YORK (AP) — The Green Bay Packers received $7,950.96 each and the Dallas Cowboys got $5,878.90 each for full shares of the Dec. 31 National Football League championship game.

The official receipts, announced today by Art Modell, NFL president, sent the Packers' post-season pay close to $25,000 a man.

They got $15,000 for winning the Super Bowl game, plus a day's pay (1-14 of their season salary) for beating Los Angeles in the divisional playoff, unofficially estimated at about $1,500. They also will get a day's pay for next summer's College All-Star game in Chicago.

Green Bay voted 51 shares and Dallas 45 shares for the game won by the Packers 21-17 in 13-below zero weather. The winning share was the third highest in league history, exceeded by Green Bay's $9,813.63 in 1966 and Cleveland's $8,052 in 1964. Dallas's share was the second best for losers, topped only by the $6,527.85 they collected last year in their own Cotton Bowl.

Gross receipts were $2,582,578, including $2 million for television and radio rights. The NFL Bert Bell Player Benefit Plan received $575,000 and $425,000 went into pension plans for coaches and other club personnel.

The player pool representing 70 per cent of the net, came to $864,374.97. The league allocates $100,000 to second place teams and $75,000 for third place in the Eastern and Western conferences.

Big O Climbs To No. 2 Spot In Point Race

NEW YORK (AP) — Hot-shooting Oscar Robertson, slowed down by early season injuries, has not let them set him back in National Basketball Association scoring statistics.

The Big O of Cincinnati took the runner-up spot behind Detroit's Dave Bing with 178 points in five games last week and retained his big lead in average points a game with 30.5. He has 1,401 total points, 129 behind Bing, who is averaging 27.8.

Robertson also took the free throw percentage lead from Flynn Robinson of Chicago at 87.5 per cent. Robinson fell to sixth as Dave Gambee of San Diego grabbed second.

Robertson remains second to Len Wilkens of St. Louis in assists, but leads in per game average with 9.7. Wilkens has 487 total, an 8.3 average, and Robertson has 445.

Wilt Chamberlain of Philadelphia still holds big leads in the other two categories, field goal percentage, 57.3 per cent, and rebounds, 1,353 or 24.2 a game.

Colonels Stop Muskie Drive

By The Associated Press

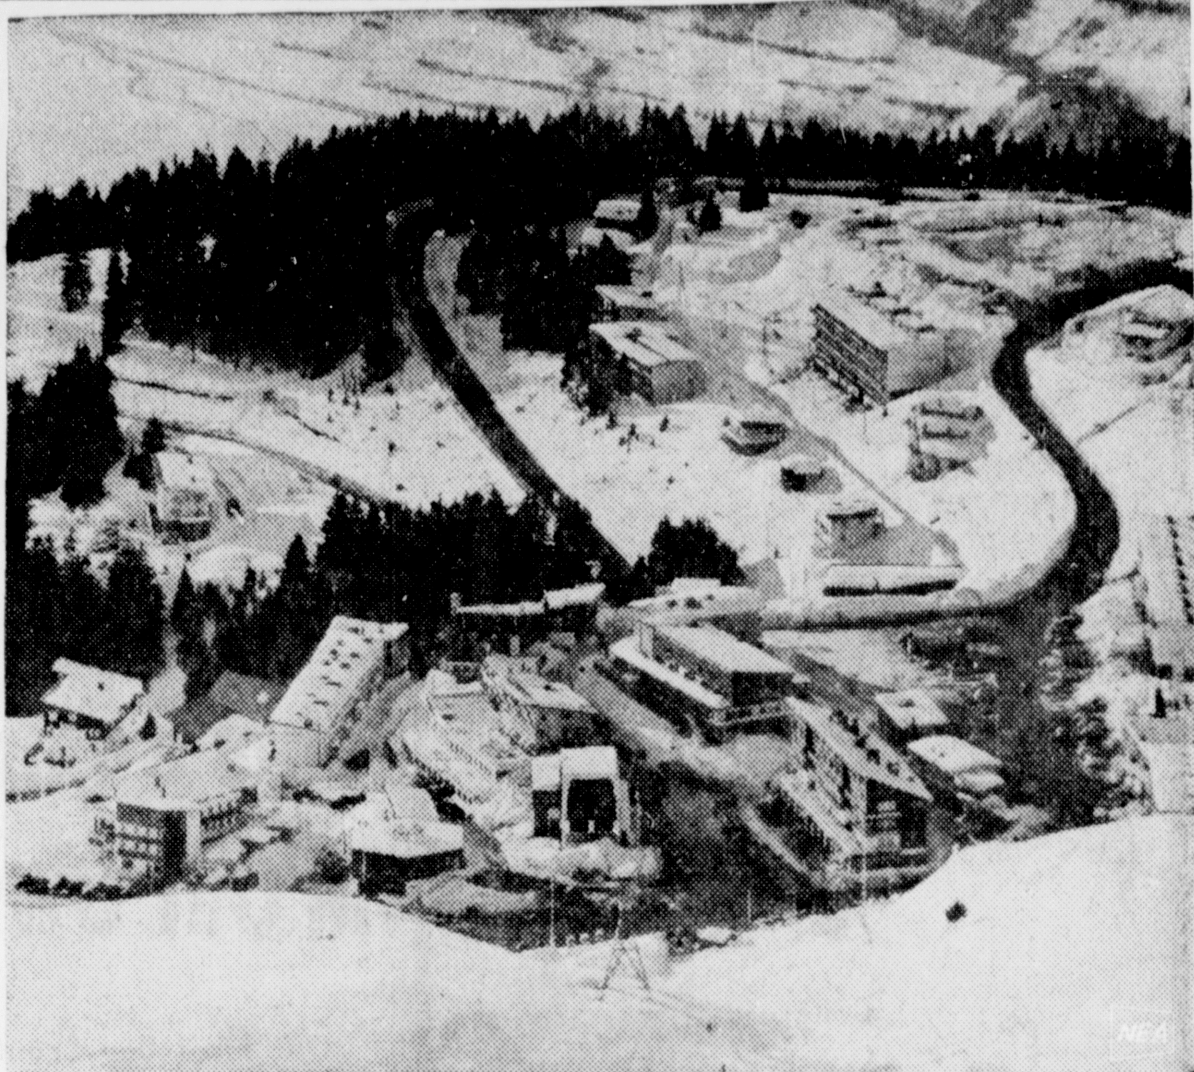

Only last-place Kentucky stood between the Minnesota Muskies and a share of first place, but the Colonels wouldn't step aside.

Kentucky stunned the Muskies 95-86 Monday night at Louisville and dropped Minnesota one game back of Pittsburgh in the Eastern Division of the American Basketball Association. A victory would have virtually tied the Muskies with the Pipers.

In the only other game, last-place Houston of the Western Division surprised visiting New Jersey 109-107.

SKIERS PARTICIPATING in the Winter Olympics at Grenoble, France, will get this scenic view as they start downhill into the picturesque valley.

Olympic Games Open On Sour Note; Battle Over Use Of Ski Trade Marks

GRENOBLE, France (AP) — President Charles de Gaulle of France opens the 10th Winter Olympics today—games shrouded with problems even before an athlete bids for a medal.

The International Ski Federation's decision to allow manufacturers' names to be used on skis has produced the biggest controversy.

Avery Brundage, president of the International Olympic Committee, heard the decision and immediately called an emergency meeting for today of his 10-man executive board to discuss the problem.

Earlier in the week, the Ski Federation had said that trade marks would be barred from the Olympics and Brundage, a disciple of complete amateurism in the Olympics, said that any athlete breaking the rule would be thrown out of the Olympics.

Decision Reversed

But about an hour later, the Ski Federation, under pressure from team captains, reversed itself and said it would allow trade marks to be used.

The Federation argued that the decision was a technical one because painting or waxing over the manufacturers' names could unbalance the skis. But it pledged itself to try and sort out the problem for future Olympics.

Brundage may not take the same view. And an official said the emergency meeting had been called because amateurism and professionalism could be involved.

Count Jean de Beaumont, president of the French Olympic Committee and a member of the IOC, requested a special meeting of the 72-man congress.

His request probably will be considered by the executive board.

Rumors Spreading

Rumors spread around Grenoble that it was possible that skiing events—instead of being Olympic events—would be called world championships.

In championships outside the Olympics, skiers are allowed to use the names of manufacturers on their skis without any problems.

Brundage refused to comment and simply said: "We have our meeting arranged and you must wait to see what the decisions are."

At another meeting—called by the Russians—Yuri Mashin, president of the Central Committee of Soviet Sports Delegates, told more than 100 newsmen preparing to cover the games: "The Soviet sportsmen are profoundly disgusted by the American aggression in Vietnam."

An American reporter asked whether it was "right and proper" to introduce political matters at a news conference conference.

Northern Trims Central Quint

MARQUETTE AP — Hitting 55 per cent of its floor shots, Northern Michigan romped over Central Michigan 83-71 Monday night in a nonconference basketball game.

Northern jumped to a 42-21 halftime lead and coasted the rest of the way to its 11th victory in 16 games.

Ted Rose topped the Wildcats with 21 points. Willie Iverson of CMU had 25, most of them in the second half when Central closed the gap to 12 points at the final gun.

Central, now 10-9, hit 30 of 73 field goals for 41 per cent while NMU hit 55 of 64 floor shots for 55 per cent and held a 50-35 rebounding edge.

Tennessee Puts Scoring Stopper On Pistol Pete

By The Associated Press

Tennessee put its show on the road, came up with a big hit and now a few more encores and they can have the Southeastern Conference basketball title. But the audiences and teams might not be as easy to get by.

The Volunteers shuffled Pete Maravich off center stage Tuesday night and clobbered Louisiana State 87-67 in the first game of a four-game road trip through the SEC.

The victory left the fifth-ranked Vols with a 9-1 conference mark, 15-2 overall and a two-game lead over Florida, which beat Alabama 64-59 on the road.

Kentucky and Vanderbilt, two other ranked SEC hopefuls, also showed well as the Wildcats belted Mississippi 78-62 at Lexington and the Commodores tripped tough Georgia 82-77 at home.

Ohio State, 5-1 and 12-4, nipped Indiana 78-77 on the road and increased its Big Ten lead to one game over Illinois while Michigan outscored visiting Minnesota 113-101 in another league game.

In the Big Eight, Kansas State and Nebraska pulled into a three-way first place tie with Iowa State at 5-2 as the Wildcats trimmed Missouri 69-67 at home and the Cornhuskers dropped host Oklahoma 89-83. Kansas ran its record to 4-2 with a 52-50 edge over visiting Oklahoma State.

In other games, Memphis State downed North Texas State 67-45 and Oklahoma City swamped Centenary 117-92 in road victories.

Tennessee, using its height and the scoring of Bill Justus, jumped to an early lead as LSU failed from the field for almost the first six minutes with Maravich being double teamed.

With Maravich, the nation's leading scorer, being held to a season low of 21 points with nine field goals in 34 attempts, LSU never caught up.

The unbeaten Houston Cougars held first place in the poll, but their margin over runnerup UCLA was trimmed to eight points.

The Cougars collected 25 votes for No. 1 and 322 points. UCLA drew eight votes for the top spot and 314 points on a basis of 10 points for a first-place, 9 for second etc. Houston led by 23 points last week.

Houston plays Centenary Saturday while UCLA takes on Oregon State Friday and Oregon Saturday.

The Top Ten, with first-place votes in parentheses, through games of Sat. Feb. 3:

1. Houston (25)	322
2. UCLA (8)	314
3. North Carolina	263
4. St. Bonaventure	202
5. Tennessee	180
6. New Mexico	158
7. Columbia	91
8. Kentucky	77

Lacrosse Loop Has Nine Teams

DETROIT (AP)—Nine teams, including three U.S. entries, were named Monday as franchise holders for a new National Lacrosse League to begin competition this spring.

The American entries include Detroit, Portland, Ore., and Seattle. Canadian franchises were awarded to Montreal, Toronto, Ottawa, Peterborough, Ont., and two West Coast cities, Victoria and Vancouver.

Each team will play 40 games, 20 at home.

The Detroit entry will be made up primarily of the Oshawa, Ont., Green Gaels, Canada's top amateur team, including Gaylord Powless, generally rated the finest all-around player in the game.

Bruce A. Norris, president of the Detroit Red Wings, will serve as president of the Detroit entry, with Jim Bishop, boss of the Green Gaels, serving as general manager and coach.

Lacrosse, a French word meaning "the stick," is a game popular in Canada and the eastern United States. Originated by North American Indians, it is played on a turfed field with two goals similar to those used in soccer.

Players equipped with helmets, face masks, shoulder pads, cleated shoes and shorts, pass, catch or carry a small, sponge-rubber ball with the aid of long handled rackets.

Ryun Will Try Double Mile Runs This Week

By The Associated Press

Jim Ryun, the world's best miler, had a special reason for entering the mile in New York Friday night, and it had nothing to do with Villanova's Dave Patrick, who beat Ryun in the NCAA indoor 880 last winter and is entered in the same race.

"I had a legitimate reason," said the 20-year-old Kansas juior. "I wanted to try back-to-back miles in New York and Michigan State two nights in a row, to see how well I could do."

"I haven't made up my mind whether to try a double in the 800 and 1,500 meters at the Olympics and I won't decide for a long time," he said. "This was the only chance I had during the indoor season to try this. I won't know any answers unless I try it."

The New York meet is run by the U.S. Track and Field Federation and called the Madison Square Garden Invitational. Ryun and others were threatened with possible loss of their Olympic eligibility at one time, because of the NCAA-AAU war for control of track. However, a temporary truce has been declared in the battle.

An Olympic gold medal is the foremost goal of Ryun's life—ahead of the 3:50 mile and any and all world records. One gets the feeling that Ryun would withdraw from any meet if he was certain it would cost him Olympic eligibility.

"I'm just glad I didn't have to make that decision," Ryun said Monday after a workout in Memorial Stadium. "The athletes shouldn't have to even think about such things."

Patrick ran a 1:48.9 half to beat Ryun solidly by 1.8 seconds last March. It is Ryun's only defeat in races between 880 and two miles since August, 1965. It's worth noting that this race was Ryun's third of the day, including a 4:08 mile 90 minutes before the half.

Delta Buying Of Bonds Dips

Combined purchases of Series E and H U. S. savings bonds and the new freedom share notes by residents of Delta County totaled $553,311 in 1967, announces John L. Greene, volunteer chairman of the County Savings Bonds Committee. This compared with $698,950 in 1966 and represented achievement of 83.1 per cent of the year's Treasury-assigned sales goal of $650,000.

Combined purchases of the two series and freedom shares for Michigan as a whole amounted to $21.2 million in December, less by 34.3 per cent than the $32.2 million figure for the same month a year earlier. Investments in Series E bonds accounted for $20.8 million of the total, off 33.6 per cent from the December 1966 level. Series H bond buying of $387,000 was less by 56 per cent than year-ago investments of $880,000.

Statewide purchases of savings bonds and freedom shares for 1967 were $300 million, less by 8.7 per cent. E bond buying accounted for $287 million of the total, H bond purchases for $8.5 million.

PTA Members Urged To Aid School Millage

New Michigan laws are needed, the Michigan PTA contends, "to secure more adequate financing of public education."

The Michigan PTA Board of Managers is issuing an appeal to its 325,000 members and 1,950 locals to work for better schools. Every member is being urged to study the many school-financing bills pending in Lansing and to work for bills that will equalize educational opportunity across the state.

A. B. Haist, Rapid City, president of the Michigan Congress of Parents and Teachers, a former superintendent at Negaunee, says many PTA leaders "are concerned about the inequities of the school-aid formula especially the problems faced in low-valuation districts."

"PTA leaders," he added, "are especially worried because of the increasing difficulty of local school districts to pass special millage elections. New state laws must be prepared and passed so every school district can provide qualified personnel and adequate instructional materials and supplies."

Mrs. Leo Niquette, Escanaba, a member of the State PTA Board, will help coordinate local PTA legislative efforts.

No More Cruise Ships:

Georgian Bay Line Votes To Liquidate

By A.F. MAHAN

DETROIT (AP) — With eight stockholders as mourners, what amounted to funeral services for the Chicago, Duluth and Georgian Bay Transit Co. were held here Monday.

The last of the Great Lakes cruise ship operators approved liquidation and the payoff of stockholders, beginning Friday.

The Georgian Bay Line's last steamer, the SS South American, already has been sold to the Seafarers International Union and taken to Piney Point, Md., to serve as a seamen's training ship.

Because of its wooden superstructure, the SS South American would have been knocked out of passenger service anyway in 1969 under federal law. She was built in 1915 and was the lone surviving Lakes cruise ship.

The Georgian Bay Line attempted to charter a successor to remain in business, but failed, and stockholders, who received their first and only dividend in 1913, didn't want to chance an additional investment of up to $15 million to build a new passenger ship.

1967 Best Year

Ironically, the Georgian Bay Line is going out of business after its most successful year. Cruises to Montreal's Expo '67 alone accounted for some 20,000 plus passengers.

Not all was sadness for E.J. Goebel, who stepped out as president of a company with which he started as an assistant purser while a college boy earning his way 43 years ago.

Preferred stockholders will get the $55 par value of their stock, plus $117 in dividend arrears for a total of $172 a share on stock that was being traded a few weeks ago at $70 a share.

Drug Sale Ban Urged By PTA

Legislation to legalize the sale and use of marijuana and other hallucinatory drugs will be opposed by the Board of Managers of the Michigan Congress of Parents and Teachers.

Mrs. Joseph Kummer, Ann Arbor, legislative chairman, says the State PTA Board is asking the 2,000 PTA local units and 325,000 members to study the possible effects of drugs on children.

Common stockholders, who could have got no more than $10, will reap at least $100 each, with $50 payable Friday and the rest later.

"I take pride in that," Goebel said, but then at the same time recalled wistfully his eight youthful years afloat and the fact he met an Iowa girl who became his wife aboard the South American's sister ship, the SS North American.

New President

Eugene Karpus, an accountant, was named to succeed Goebel as president, "because we've got to have somebody to sign papers in the liquidation."

Like Goebel, the South American's last captain, Joseph A. Testyou of Chicago also started with the Georgian Bay Line as a youngster—at 14 and as a cabin boy—and he also met the

AMC Reports Quarter Profit

DETROIT (AP) — American Motors Corp., which has been operating in the red for more than a year, is prepared to tell stockholders Wednesday that the company finally is using black ink in its financial records again.

After five consecutive quarters of huge losses, the fourth largest domestic automaker has made a profit for its first fiscal quarter, ended Dec. 31.

Financial observers have speculated that the net earnings may total about $4 million, in addition to a special tax refund of $19.2 million.

The company has emphasized that it intends to be very careful to point out that a profit was realized in addition to the tax refund.

"We don't want to leave the impression that the tax recovery is our profit," Roy Chapin Jr., AMC board chairman, told the New York Society of Security Analysts.

"What is particularly significant," Chapin added, "is that this improvement—from a loss of more than $8 million in the first quarter a year ago—has been achieved with a lower net sales total than in the same quarter a year ago."

woman who was to become his wife aboard ship.

Happy P. Brown, 80, was one of the stockholders on hand, a Georgian Bay employee 24 years and a cruise boat man since 1908. He recalled once riding out an 80-mile-an-hour, gale aboard the South American on Lake Michigan.

No Fatalities

But Brown proudly pointed out no passenger ever had been injured fatally aboard a Georgian Bay Line ship.

Built by the Great Lakes Engineering Works of Detroit, the South American was 340 feet long and had a beam of 45 feet. She carried a crew of 155 and could accommodate 450 passengers.

She was sold for $111,111.11. A company-owned cottage on Mackinac Island brought $22,500. The company's chief remaining asset is a dock and warehouse at Holland, Mich. The SS North American, built in 1913, was disposed of several years ago.

While only eight were on hand for the meeting, more than 90 per cent of the company's 5,250 common shares of stock and more than 60 per cent of the preferred shareholders were represented personally or by proxy. There was no dissenting vote on any motion.

So this summer there will be no passenger vessel cruising the Great Lakes, where once 60 different cruise ships plied.

Universities Urged To Fill Recreation Need

The failure of universities to recognize recreation as important to man's existence and progress has resulted in a lack of quality in American life and environment, according to a Michigan State University professor.

Speaking at the recent American Association for the Advancement of Science in New York City, Professor Louis F. Twardzik said universities are responsible for the present conflicts in the use of various social and natural resources for recreation.

Twardzik predicted that man's abuse of himself and his environment will continue until recreation is recognized by American universities as an integral part of his existence and progress.

"Universities must educate the population and adequate numbers of specialists not merely for leisure, but for recreation," he said.

"The public outcry for more space, more parks, more beauty and more recreation and cultural opportunities cannot be quieted until enough recreation specialists and scientists are produced by the universities."

Mack Asks For Tax Equality

State Senator Joseph S. Mack (D-Ironwood) introduced a bill today co-sponsored by Senators Thomas F. Shewegert (R-Petoskey), John F. Toepp (R-Cadillac) and Robert L. Richardson (R-Saginaw) which Mack said would correct a glaring inequity and injustice to the taxpayers of northern Lower Michigan and throughout the Upper Peninsula.

Mack said that the Conservation Department, by statute rebates the full ad valorem tax rate to local units of government for conservation purchased lands south of Town Line 16. "But north of Town Line 16," Mack said, "only 20 cents an acre is rebated to similar conservation purchased lands. This is discrimination in taxation."

"What this means," Mack explained, "is that the home owners above Town Line 16 and throughout the Upper Peninsula are forced to pay a higher rate of taxes on their property to make up this loss to the local units of government on state purchased lands."

"I cannot conceive why a former Michigan Legislature ever enacted this discriminating statute, against one section of the state."

"The present Legislature has an opportunity to correct this deplorable situation," Mack added, "and insure uniform tax equity for all our citizens. If the Legislature fails to act we will go to court," he said.

Senators Schweigert, Toepp and Richardson urged every official of a township, county, city or school district to send resolutions and petitions in support of this measure to Lansing. "At present," he said approximately a million dollars a year of taxes for the administration of local governmental units is involved."

The bill sponsored by Mack, Schweigert, Toepp and Richardson will call for full payment of taxes by the Conservation Department on all conservation purchased lands both north and south of town line 16. Town Line is in the Muskegon-Bay City area.

Dow Plans New Arkansas Plant

MIDLAND (AP)—Dow Chemical Co., has announced plans to build a plant at Russellville, Ark., which will specialize in producing large aluminum extrusions, if Russellville voters approve a $20 million bond issue to finance the new Dow facility and provide for possible expansion.

If the bond issue is approved, Dow said it would begin construction in the spring, utilizing $7 million from the sale of bonds. The plant would become operational by mid-1969.

Dow said the new plant would employ about 100 persons.
